

#iTo is looking for custom support INTERN

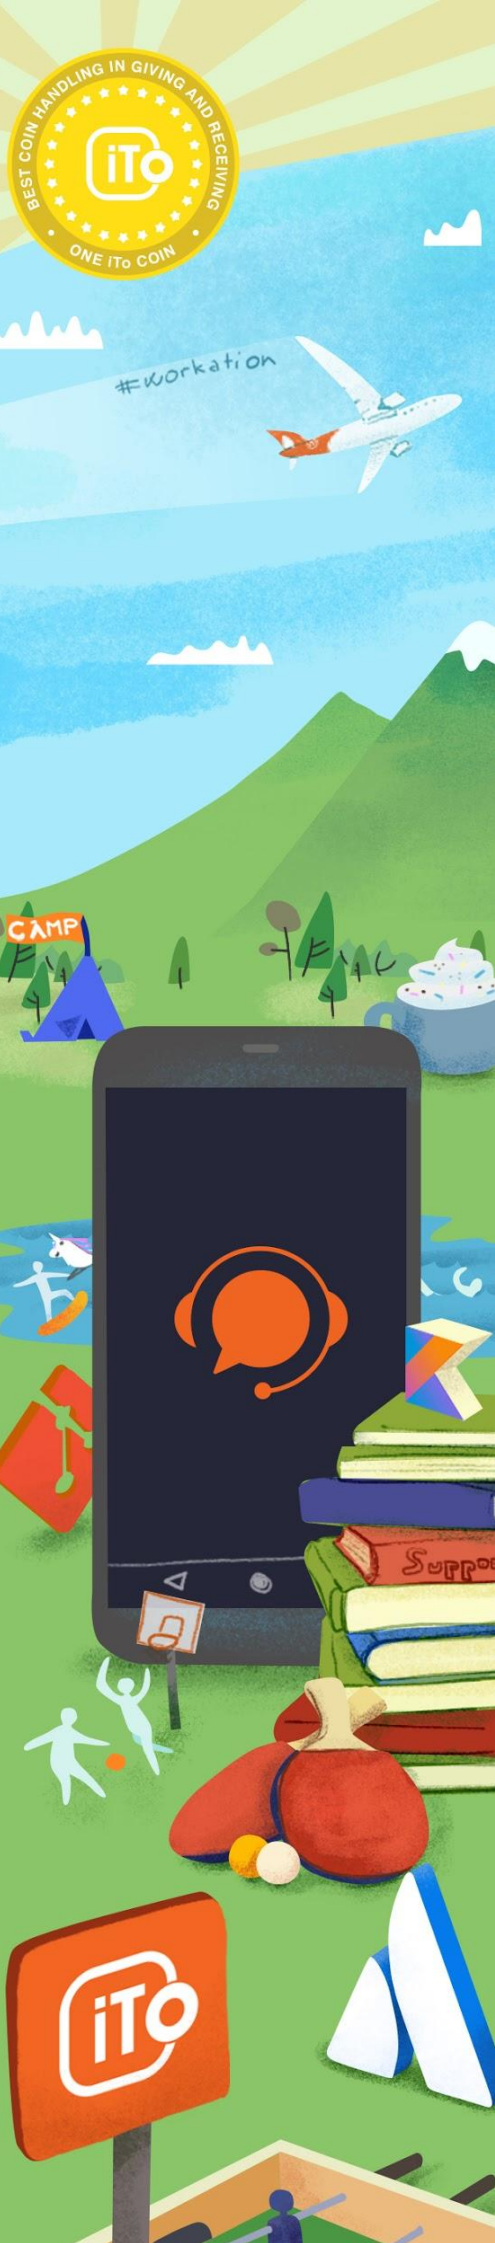

Intern @iTo will have to:

- communicate with new and existing clients; -> Your communication skills will come to great use while communicating with new and existing clients
- prepare offers for customers; You will be the one, who prepares "impossible to resist" offers for customers
- assist the team with coordination of the sales cycle; -> You will carry the light for the team while going through sales cycle
- support the team in daily administrative tasks. - On daily basis, all team is working like a bees, so you would come into great help while supporting them in daily administrative tasks.

We are willing that INTERN @iTo:

- will have such good communication skills that wau... Brutally good.
- will be the 3th or last year student in University or College.
- will be fast. You're not Lightning McQueen and not Iron Men, we understand, but you need to think and act fast, organized, and responsibly.
- will be fluent in English - verbal, written, jokes and etc. You'll need that!!
- will be as good in writing as in clerical skills. Specifically, it will be necessary to supplement and adjust the documentation from time to time, it is necessary to follow the structure, order, known magical combination ctrl + b, ctrl + i, ctrl + u. Anyway, ctrl + c and ctrl + v come in handy.
- will be full of positivity. Be one yourself, drive clients towards it and everything will be unicorns and rainbows! Kind of :)

Intern will be working very closely with Atlassian team manager and after a succeeded internship will have opportunity to become a member of crazy iTo family.

We offer more than we require!

What iTo offers:

- career opportunities after the internship.
- competitive fixed salary and social benefits after the internship.
- friendly and crazy (more like crazy) experts in their fields.
- informal and unique working environment. What happens @iTo, stays @iTo!
- opportunity for professional growth. Actually it is more like duty than opportunity.
- technological workshops, training inside and outside the company. Mandatory attendance.
- professional and “can do” attitude. We can do everything, but at the same time we know that not everything is needed.
- big, interesting and challenging projects - something new/impossible/difficult? Bring it on!

Extra's @iTo:

- workation, summer camp - our two biggest events of the year! As they say - work hard, party harder.
- some minor events like: kartings, donut degustation, paintball, escape rooms, photo trips, pet days, game nights, hackathon... - you name it what else can be here!
- some daily stuff to brighten your day: playstation, foosball, table tennis, massage chair, swimming and basketball trainings, coffee club and etc.
- tons of inside jokes, friendly pranks and always willing to help colleagues.

Let us know how cool you are and send your CV to noriudirbti@ito.lt or pasikalbam@ito.lt.

We'll PING you only if you prove your awesomeness.